Unit 1 Cumulative Project: Mini-Movie Project Rubric Guide

A	B	C	D	F
Edited Video is 5-7 minutes, and looks professional and well-planned.	Edited video is 5-7 minutes long, but lacks cohesiveness, and could've endured additional editing.	Edited video is either a minute less or more than the requirement, and scenes could be more cohesive.	Video is significantly less than 5 minute, and didn't undergo appropriate editing for a mini-movie.	Video is less than 1 minute and is not edited at all.
Actors and actresses are very believable, making all plot events very convincing to the audience.	Actors and actresses are pretty believable, and made most plot events convincing to the audience.	Actors and actresses are somewhat believable, but could've been more convincing to the audience.	Actors and actresses are not very believable, therefore making the movie difficult to take seriously.	Actors and actresses were not believable at all, appearing not to take roles seriously.
Set location is most appropriate, and costume/props suit the overall plot of the movie.	Set location is appropriate, and use of some costume/props help to move the plot forward.	Some set locations were more appropriate than others. Selection of costume and prop needed to be revised.	Little to no use of costume/props were established or utilized for the movie. Set location needed to be altered.	Set location doesn't match the plot elements included in the script. No use of costume or props.
Script is typed in 12-point font, and is double-spaced. Script lines correspond to lines in the movie, while showing character's lines and narrative descriptions.	Script is typed in 12-point font, but isn't double spaced. Script lines mostly correspond to the lines in the movie, and show the narrative descriptions.	Script is typed, but doesn't follow requirements for font and spacing. Script lines somewhat correspond to character's lines, but most are ad-libbed or different from movie.	Script is handwritten with grammatical errors, and doesn't correspond to character's lines in the movie.	No script is provided.
Script is annotated to show all major plot elements, which are accurate; direct and indirect characterization have been labeled; and the overall theme of the movie has been correctly identified.	Script is annotated, and includes most major plot elements which are correct. Characterization has been labeled, but not all examples are accurate. The overall theme has been correctly identified.	Script is annotated, but doesn't accurately identify the major plot elements and types of characterization The theme hasn't been identified.	The script is not annotated, therefore not identifying any plot elements. However, a theme has been identified.	Script is not annotated for major plot elements or characterization, and the theme of the movie is not identified.
A	B	C	D	F